Knowing what you need to know.

In our knowledge-based society, success depends on one crucial factor: access to relevant knowledge. The challenge facing executives today is how to acquire the knowledge you need to make decisions in the fastest possible time. A recent Bersin & Associates survey showed that 91% of executives use the Internet when searching for business-related information. 67% said they read only summaries.

getAbstract summarizes the most relevant business books

getAbstract compresses the most authoritative business knowledge from the best sources into a highly intuitive format. Our summaries cover a book's important points in just five pages, intelligently compressed by experts, up-to-date and relevant. The getAbstract library includes more than 4,500 summaries of the latest, top business books. We add 50 new summaries each month. The summaries are easily downloaded to your e-mail box, iPod or mobile device.

The getAbstract library is conveniently structured in 12 main categories and approximately 90 sub-categories. A sophisticated key word search engine helps you find the titles you need, saving time, and providing rapid access to immediate topical information. Our RSS feeds and podcasts make it even easier to stay on top of new ideas.
